The following testimonial came to us: Kenyon & Thomas Co., Adams, N. Y.: Gentlemen—For the past two years I have suffered terribly with what doctors call eczema. During this time I have consulted several physicians and used a number of well-known remedies but could get no relief, and finally I was urged to give your remedies a trial. I cannot say enough in praise of them. At present I am as well as I ever was in my life and owe my sincere thanks to you for Dr. Hale's Household Ointment and Tea. Any one doubting the sincerity of this testimonial will confer a favor by addressing, very truly yours, N. J. McNabb, Leominster, Mass.

These remedies are for sale at 25 and 50c at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

A Parable on Tobacco.

Dear reader, by the mercies of God, let me ask you to give the following parable your prayerful attention:

Seeing that men who professed to be servants of the Most High had corrupted themselves and become filthy and abominable, a great and wise prophet stood up and did prophesy these words of truth and soberness: Then shall the kingdom of Satan be likened unto a grain of tobacco seed, which, though exceedingly small, being cast into the earth, grew exceedingly and became a great plant, and spread forth its leaves rank and broad, so that the huge and vile worms with thorns on them, even on their tails, came and formed habitations thereon, and did crawl all over and leave their slime and filth thereupon. And it came to pass in those days that the sons of men did look upon this rank and filthy plant and were very much enamored therewith and did think it was beautiful to behold, and a plant very much to be desired to make lads big and manly. And it further came to pass that men claiming to be nice men, did put forth their hands and pulled the heads off these filthy looking worms, and left their bodies still sticking to the tobacco leaf that the leaf might be made rich by the juice thereof, and having cut these filthy plants and smoked them, even with an exceeding great smoke, and cured, and stripped and prized and wrought the leaves thereof into curious shapes and forms and the sons of men gave gold and silver for it, and did chew thereof.

And some that chewed thereof it made sick at the stomach, and others it made their heads to ache, and still others to spew and vomit most filthily; but for all this they continued to chew thereof.

And it came to pass that those who continued to chew became exceedingly unmanly and exclaimed: "We are enslaved and cannot cease from chewing!" And the mouths of all who were enslaved became exceedingly filthy and foul, insomuch that they were seized with a violent spitting, and they did spit even in ladies' parlors and on their floors and carpets, and being wholly abandoned to the use of the plant, they even invaded the sacred precincts of the house of the Lord, and there with prayers on their lips and tobacco in their mouths, they sang and prayed and preached, and chewed, and spurted the filthy juice on the floor of the Lord's house, and under the pews and against the walls and in the pulpit and did drop their quids of tobacco all over the floor of the house of the most high God, and would return home and say, "We have worshiped God to-day."

But some of the saints of the Most High were not well pleased with such conduct; but chewers cared not for any of these things, and continued to chew and spit where they pleased. And in the course of time it came to pass that this rank and filthy plant was ground into dust, even the stalks and stems and filth thereof, and was called snuff, and it came to pass that ladies—even beautiful and fair ladies—did make unto themselves brushes and mops and dipped the same into the filth called snuff, and did put these filthy mops into their mouths and they would rub and scrub mightily, and spit and sneeze, and call the same dipping.

And again it came to pass, that the leaves of the filthy plant were cunningly wrought into little round rolls called cigars, and the sons of men did set fire to one end thereof and put the other end in their Halloween.

A party of young people were out Tuesday night celebrating Halloween by taking off yard gates, changing signs, &c. But few gates escaped them on the South Side, while on the North Side one yard was whitewashed, the location of a plumbers shop changed and other tricks played. The perpetrators doubtless enjoyed their alleged fun, but to an on-looker or a victim it was a funny kind of fun—nothing new or amusing about it, but a hoary-haired chestnut.

Are your children subject to croup? If so, you should never be without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is a certain cure for croup, and has never been known to fail. If given freely as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is the sole reliance with thousands of mothers who have croupy children, and never disappoint them. There is no danger in giving this Remedy in large and frequent doses, as it contains nothing injurious. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle.

Do you spend your money for that which satisfies not, and wherefore this waste? And why do these little ones lack bread and shoes and your families do without religious papers, and your children have no school books? Turn now your tobacco fields into corn and wheat and cotton, and put this unclean thing from you, and be ye separate and defile not yourselves, then I will bless you and cause my face to shine upon you." But the chewers and dippers and snuffers unanimously exclaimed, "We cannot cease from chewing and dipping and snuffing, and puffing and sneezing and spitting—we are slaves!"

Dr. Hale's Household Tea

Is a pleasant herb drink, which positively cures dyspepsia, liver complaints and all kidney diseases. One dose a day taken at bed time does the business. 25 and 50 cent per package. Get it to-day at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

Check Found.

If one of the firm of Hedden & Goins will call at this office they will find a check for $63 65 made payable to their order and indorsed by them, which was picked up on the street by a colored man.

Drive them away—the aches, pains, weakness, and ailments that make woman's life miserable. Some of them may be serious, and of long standing; they'll need time, perhaps, and patience. But all of them can be cured and corrected with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It's a powerful, invigorating tonic and a soothing and strengthening nerve; a legitimate medicine, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and carefully adapted to women's delicate needs. At the two critical periods in a woman's life—the change from girlhood to womanhood, and, later, the "change of life"—it is a perfectly safe and an especially valuable remedial agent that can produce only good results.

For all "female complaints," irregularities, and weaknesses, "Favorite Prescription" is the only remedy so unfailing and effective that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, the money will be refunded.

Prices Tell and Everybody Tells the Prices

To give everybody an equal chance I will continue my dress goods sale one week longer, and the prices will be the same as advertised last week, and if you want to save at least 25 per cent. come early before they are picked over. I will also put on sale for this week only, 25 blue and black figured callio wrappers at 8c, former price $1.00, and 25 same patterns, heavier material for $1.10, former price $1.25. Another new lot of the satin damask towels at the cheap table at 25c, worth 36 and 40c.

Housekeepers, Attention!

Cold weather has now set in for good, and don't hold on to your money so tight and be freezing all winter, but come as quick as you can and get a good pair of blankets and a comfort, the outfit for $2.00. Great values can now be had in blankets and comforts. 50 pair of blankets were received last week, and prices are astonishingly low.

To the Gentlemen!

Of Frankfort, Franklin and adjoining counties, and to all whom it may concern. You may not think for a moment that a fancy goods and notion house would be likely to keep a large and elegant line of gents' furnishing goods, but such is the case here. I keep everything in your line. Elegant merino underwear at 80c, 90c and $1.00 a suit; English habdigan at $1.50 and $2.00 a suit, all wool, red flannel at $1.50 a suit, all wool, red flannel, T. The White City.

CHICAGO, ILL., OCT. 31, '93.

Dear Old Roundabout:

I have been enjoying the sights of the White City this week. What a wonderfully beautiful scene is presented to the eye, as you near the Fair from the elevated railroad, and then at night it seems as though it is some fairy land on which we gaze. To obtain a better view from a changing standpoint, as we left the ground that night for the city, we took one of the Lake's camers. Around us was the beautiful white capped waves, and, as we silently glided from the shore, there was presented a sight never to be forgot. It was not difficult to imagine that we were looking upon the very portals of the Heavenly City. A friend remarked, that this is as near paradise as we shall ever get in this world, and, as the chime bells rang out that much-loved song, "Home, Sweet Home," my heart formed the wish that each loved one at home was there to enjoy all that we did. Though on the lake miles from shore, I feasted on a panorama of beauty I have never dreamed of, and one never to be forgot. The intramural railroad around the grounds gave us a bird's eye view of the White City. Of course I viewed all I could, and it is useless to pen down the sights to be seen. It seems a pity that it shall soon be a thing of the past.

At present the city is draped in mourning for their Mayor, much beloved and honored by his people. His body to-day lies in state, entombed in flowers, and thousands are come to gaze on the dead face of the man who was a friend to all. They tell me his is the first body to lie in state since Lincoln, who, like the Mayor, was laid low by the hand of an assassin.

Enchanting as the Windy City is, my thoughts are of loved ones in my dear old Kentucky home, so I will to-morrow turn my back to all the attractions here, and speed on to the dear old home near the city among the hills.

Obituary.

On Sept. 28, 1893, death visited the home of Robt. and Annie Jenkins and took away their little babe, aged eight months:

The days, our darling one, were few—An angel's evening visit. That came and vanished with the dew—"Was here—its gone—where is it?"

We cannot tell to what sweet end The angels may have borne thee; But this we know, thou cannot go Where our hearts will fail to find thee.

Gem of our hearth, our innocent pride, Our darling's unselfish life, Could have saved thee, thou hadst not died. Our dear, sweet child!

Humbly we bow before thy decree; Yet and we hoped that time should see Thee mourn for us, not us for thee.

Yet 'tis sweet bliss to our despair, When thou we miss, That heaven is thine, and thou art there. There rest and death and all its woes; There life a sweet and sunny flow, And radiant day no sunset know.

After Last Fall.

A little boy climbed on an old man's knees.
And begged for the reason: "Do, papa, please.
Why are you gloomy, idle, alone?
Have you no work but loafing at home?"
"I had a good job last year, you know.
Why I have none now, child, you shall know.
List to my story: Grover, last fall,
I helped elect him—idle, that's all."

counts.
After the vote was taken, after the change had come.

After the factories closing, after the wheels were dumb!

Many a heart was aching, if you could read them all.

Many a home was darkened—after last fall.

Bright were our prospects, clouds not in sight.

Happy our homes were from morn till night.

Then came the tempest, spoke soft and low.

Foisted us poor workers—how, I don't know.

When we awakened to what we have done.

Factories were idle, mills could not run.

Down they all closed, pet, ended—that's all.

Just as our work was, after last fall.

Long months have passed, child, no work to do.

Although I've sought it for mother and you.

No work to give me; tried to explain.

They could not help it—placards are vain.

I knew the reason, after it was done.

I helped to close up factories that run.

That's why I'm idle—no work at all—

I lost my job, pet, after last fall.

VIRGINIA BENNETT.

The "Little Chief Justess," Celebrates Her Fifth Birthday by a Party to Her Friends.

Late Saturday afternoon at the home of Judge Bennett there was a large gathering of children, summoned there on the invitation of Miss Virginia Bennett, the Judge's lovely little daughter, to while away the hours between two and four o'clock in the celebration of her fifth birthday. The guests ranged in ages from four months to six years and all were attired in the prettiest and most becoming garments that fond parents could desire. Autumn leaves and chrysanthemums decorated the parlors and dining room and also contributed in no small degree to heighten the effect of a beautiful table scene at which covers for forty had been laid.

A number of candelabra having five candles in each furnished light for the darkened rooms and also served to ornament the tables, on which a birthday cake with five candles in it was placed at the head for the little hostess to blow out the lights, one by one, as a stroke of a bell sounded, to signify the years passing into the darkness of Time and the beginning of another year with the festivities of the occasion. Miss Virginia wore a pink silk dress, pink slippers and stockings, and a child's relish for candy, fruit and dainties; she bore the honors of her position with the becoming grace and propriety of an age suitable to her formal entrance into society.

Those present were:

Martha Rogers, St. Paul; Louise Barnham, Lincoln, Neb.; Cora South Brown, Lakeland; Josephine Marguerite Murray, Jacksonville, Hendrick, Elise Dandridge, Fattie Cratoher, Allice Mitholland, Maria Trabes, Russell Henderson, Florrie Rodman, Frances Taylor Saffell, Mary Swigert Hendrick, Virginia Greenhow, Beasie

Deaths.

WENT—From the Lexington Press of Tuesday we clip the annexed notice of the death of Miss Irene T. Went. She was the only remaining child by the first marriage of Col. Ed. C. Went, formerly of this city but now of Youngstown, New York, her two brothers having died during the residence of her father in this city.

When her mother died she was very small and was adopted by Dr. Aquilla Talbott and wife, the latter being a cousin of her mother, and remained a member of their family up to the time of her death.

Miss Irene T. Went, the adopted daughter of Dr. A. Talbott, died yesterday morning at 4 o'clock at the doctor's home, at No. 63 Georgetown street.

Miss Went was an estimable girl. She was 21 years of age, and had been sick with typhoid fever for some time.

She was the daughter of Mr. E. C. Went, who was employed in the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction at Frankfort for a number of years, but who is now a druggist, residing in Youngstown, N. Y. He will not get here in time for the funeral.

Miss Went's mother was a sister of the late Dr. B. F. Duvall, of Frankfort. Miss Went was an exceedingly bright scholar and won a number of medals while a student at the public school. She graduated at Sayre Institute. The funeral services will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the First Baptist Church.

OWENS—The infant son of Mr. Robert Owens died at the residence of its parents in Bellepoint on Wednesday night and was buried Thursday afternoon.

CALLEKY—Mr. Richard Callery died at the residence of his father, Mr. Mike Callery, on the Versailles pike, Wednesday night, after a lingering illness with consumption. His funeral took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, from the Church of the Good Shepherd.

THE BEST PLASTER—Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it over the seat of pain. It is better than any plaster. When the lungs are sore such an application on the chest and another on the back, between the shoulder blades, will often prevent pneumonia. There is nothing so good for a lame back or a pain in the side. A sore throat can nearly always be cured in one night by applying a flannel bandage dampened with Pain Balm. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle.

FOR SALE OR RENT—My dwelling-house on Ann street. J. T. Buckley.

Will be Dedicated To-morrow.

The new Catholic Church, which has just been completed at Georgetown, will be dedicated to-morrow and a large number will likely go up from this city. The Kentucky Midland has made a rate of 75 cents for the round trip, and an elegant dinner will be served by the people of Georgetown.

A Great Success.

The supper and dance given by the Women's Relief Corps at Sower & Ahler's Hall on Thursday evening was a grand success. A large crowd was in attendance, the supper was first-class and a handsome sum will be paid into the treasury of the organization as the result. The young people danced until a late hour.

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 4, 1898.

SOMETHING LIKE IT.

$1,524,000 Recommended for Kentucky River.

Gen. Thomas L. Casey, Chief of Engineers of the War Department, has recommended that $1,524,000 be appropriated to complete the improvements upon the Kentucky river, $500,000 of which to be expended next year. Now what we want is that our Senators and Representatives see that the amount recommended gets into the River and Harbor bill and is not reduced after it is put there, and if they fail to attend to the matter the people should remember them when they ask a re-election. Our own Representative, Col. Breckinridge, has been very remiss in this matter, and he should be reminded that unless he looks after the Kentucky river appropriation—a matter in which the greater portion of his district is vitally interested—the people will send a man there who will, Senator Blackburn has also given the Kentucky river the cold shoulder in the past, and he, too, should be stirred up. Both of these gentlemen will have a great deal of explaining to do on other points when they come seeking re-election, and it will be well enough for their constituents to know, when they get them on the stand, why we have been neglected so long in the matter of appropriations to the river. It has been understood for a long time that the only reason a pitiful $100,000 or $150,000 was doled out to Kentucky river when the Kanawha and other rivers were getting their $500,000 and $1,000,000 was because our Representatives asked for nothing and took what the Committee on River and Harbors chose to give, standing back upon the plea that it was undemocratic to take money from the Government. The Representatives from other States have never been bothered with any such scruples, have gone in for big money and have got what they asked. All we need is to have men in Congress who will look after our interests and not devote their time to making national reputations as orators. Oratory is all right enough, but when it is expended for the benefit of the country at large and home interests neglected then it becomes too much of a luxury and can be dispensed with.

LET THE WORK GO ON.

The Bridge Should be Completed This Winter.

It has been suggested that as the King Bridge Company are so far behind on their contract that the old St. Clair street bridge should be patched up and allowed to remain until spring, when the iron bridge can be put up in good weather.

The old bridge has already been tinkered with until a large mass of the people are afraid to cross it and they want it supplanted by the new one as soon as possible. Delays are dangerous and the Bridge Company should be compelled to go ahead with their contract, and push it to an early completion. It is no fault of the city and county that the work will have to be done in cold weather, and they should not be made to pay six months' interest on the bridge bonds, which have already been sold, and have nothing to show for the money thus expended.

If the King Bridge Company had a contract to put up a bridge in a northern city they would be compelled to rush the work, and there is no reason why they should be allowed to play with this city and do the work at their leisure. Let the work go on and the sooner it is completed the better.

Assassinated.

Hon. Carter H. Harrison, Mayor of Chicago, was shot three times at his home on Ashland Boulevard, in that city, Saturday evening about 8 o'clock, by a fellow by the name of Eugene Patrick Pendergast, who is supposed to be crazy. The assassin gives as a reason for the murder that the dead Mayor promised to appoint him corporation counsel and had failed to keep his promise. He has been indicted by the grand jury for murder and should be hung, as there was too much method in his madness.

Fall to do Their Duty.

Everybody has at times failed to do their duty towards themselves. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and female troubles. Let them follow the example of Mrs. H. Herbrechter, Stevens Point, Wis., who for five years suffered greatly from nervous prostration and sleeplessness, tried physicians and different medicines without success. But one bottle of Dr. Mille's Nervine caused sound sleep every night and she is feeling like a new person. Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, Laramie City, Wyoming, who tried all other remedies, declares that after three weeks' use of the Nervine for headache, nervous prostration, etc., she was entirely relieved. Sold by J. W. Gayle. Trial bottle free.

Candidate for Jailer.

In another column will be found the announcement of Mr. Henry F. Showalter as a candidate for Jailer of this county. As the election comes off a year from Tuesday he will have ample time to make the acquaintance of the voters of the county. He is a clever fellow and will make a good officer, if elected.

The following resolutions were adopted by the Franklin County Teachers' Institute at the late meeting in this city:

Submitted:

G. D. FENDLEY,
GRACE MURRAY,
G. D. HANCOCK,
LIZZIE FLYNN,
W. H. PARRENT.

The question was then taken on the adoption of the resolutions and decided in the affirmative.

Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve years, says: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold. There is good reason for this. No other will cure a cold so quickly; no other is so certain a preventive and cure for croup; no other affords so much relief in case of whooping cough. For sale by J. W. Gayle.

Mr. W. B. Clelland, of Mercer county, has purchased from Mrs. M. F. Avis the Marion Parker property on Logan street, for fourteen hundred and fifty dollars, and will remove his family here to reside.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 4, 1893.

CHICAGO'S DEAD MAYOR

And Nancy Hanks Raised on the Same Farm.

The farm on which Carter H. Harrison was born is famous, not alone from that cause, for some of the stars of the equine world have been domiciled at Kentucky Stock Farm.

It was there that Nancy Hanks received, through the careful and artistic handling of Ben Kenney, the training which Budd Dobie says made her the queen she afterwards became under Dobie's tutelage.

Salvator and Leary, the two great mares for honors on the running turf, have gambled to gether over the soil on which the dead Mayor first saw light. Other famous horses have also been trained and foaled at Kentucky Stock Farm. The place is now owned by Col. William Kenney, sr.—Lexington Press.

"JANE."

With New York Cast, at Opera House Monday, Nov. 6th.

The following is the plot in brief of the comic comedy "Jane," in which Miss Kittie Cheatham is announced to appear at the Opera House next Monday evening, supported by Mr. Robert Cotton and the principal New York cast.

The three acts divulge the woes of one Charles Shakleton, an extravagant bachelor, who falls heir to property on condition that he is married before he receives it. He pretends he is married in order to get money to pay his debts, which he blames on his supposed wife's extravagance. The trustee determines to find out the real state of affairs, and Shakleton, hearing of his visit, in a frenzy of despair, persuades Jane, the housemaid, to pretend she is his wife during the old man's visit. Jane consents, without first telling her husband, William, the butler. William, desiring to help his master, hunts up an aged, but sentimental old lady to impersonate the wife. All met at the same time, to the bewilderment of the trustee and the horror of the hero, not to mention the indignation of the old lady, who is the aunt of Shakleton's real fiancée. From this point on it takes all the ingenuity of everyone of the cast to unravel the thread of complication.

"Chums," the one act curtain-raiser, written by Thomas Frost, will precede "Jane." It is described as a dramatic gem.

Justly Entitled to It.

Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure is justly entitled to the praise it is receiving. Wherever introduced it has proven itself the most reliable remedy known for the cure of coughs, colds, hoarseness, whooping cough, bronchitis, soreness of the lungs and every kind of a cough from a simple cold to incipient consumption. Purely vegetable. Always reliable and effective. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle at P. H. CARAENTER'S drug store.

Manual Training.

The public school, like all other institutions, is the result of development.

Development is a gradual advance or growth through a series of progressive changes: the opening of an envelope by which the hidden content is exposed. Nothing can be developed which is not first enveloped. Within the tiny shell of the acorn lies the possibility of a mighty oak, a dormant germ awaiting the influence of heat, light, moisture and air to cause it to spring forth into a majestic tree, beautiful and useful. Just so has the manual training school lain, a dormant germ awaiting the influence of popular favor and support. Today it receives this influence and in response has awoken into life, has become a vigorous growth, pleasing and benefiting all over whom its influence extends.

We have stated heretofore that the public school has been and is a most potent factor in advancing civilization. We now state that by reflex action the public school has been advanced by society and developed to its present condition. The public school exists as a product of present civil society, fulfilling its mission to day as well as any school of any passed age fulfilled its mission. The systems of education and instruction of past ages harmonized with then existing condition of civil society.

In early tribal life, all authority was vested in the elders who were the instructors also. They gave a domestic education, but their efforts were without coherence, conscious aim, principles or system. There arose after a time a necessity for State education. To preserve the State the youths were trained as soldiers. Next came caste education, the education of the priest, the knight and the burgher. Upon the decline of the nobility and the clergy the necessity for general education arose.

The manual training department of the school is answering the demand of the masses for complete popular education by training the tactual and the visual senses as well as the mental powers.

Neither the wisest teacher nor the profoundest philosopher of fifty years ago had the faintest conception of what would be the character of the public school of to-day, nor are the most far-sighted of to-day able to conceive the character of the school of fifty years hence.

The object of the manual training department of the public school is to assist in the harmonious development of its pupils, by giving attention to the power to do, as well to the power to think or the power to feel. This is the development of the present.

Manual training is in itself a development. It is yet young in years. The first stage was experimental, through which it has passed successfully. The experimental stage satisfied leading educators that the study is highly beneficial as a part of the school curriculum. The present stage of manual training is the determination of what is the best subject matter to present to pupils and how to present it in the most effective manner. No formulated course exists which meets the approval of all teachers. It may be impossible to formulate such a course owing to the varying needs, or, at least, to which is supposed to be the varying needs of different localities. An ideal course of manual training exercises may be arranged as a standard with which each may compare his own favorite course. Efforts are being made at present to organize a Manual Training Teacher's Association, the object of which is to advance the interest of manual training in every legitimate way.

Stop the Holes.

The plank walk on Second street, west from Bridge, has several holes in it which may cause a broken leg or ankle and it would be a good idea to have them fixed at once. A dollar's worth of plank now may save a damage suit for several thousand dollars after awhile.

Built Them a Walk.

After completing the floor of their bridge here the L. & N. Railroad Company had the workmen put down a walk between the west end of the bridge and the bridge over Benson, to replace the one destroyed by raising the pile up to the grade of the railroad. This was done free of cost, for which the Bellepointers are very grateful.

AN ELEGANT RECEPTION.

The Misses Thomas Entertain From Eight to Twelve.

The society event of the season was the reception given by the Misses Thomas at the elegant family mansion on Washington street Tuesday evening from eight to twelve, in honor of Mr. Western B. Thomas, of Anderson, Ind., and his beautiful bride. The four first-floor rooms of the main part of the house were thrown open to the use of the guests, the two on the left hand as reception rooms for the hostesses and the guests of honor, who were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. W. Little, of Muncie, Ind., parents of Mrs. Western Thomas, Mrs. L. A. Thomas, Miss Mannie Powell and Mrs. George Darsie, while the rooms on the right were devoted to refreshments, an elegant collation being served by Pargny, of Louisville. Saxton's string band, of Lexington, concealed behind a mass of potted plants and ferns in the hall, discoursed sweet music, and together with merry faces, happy hearts and the laughing chatter of conversation went to make up a scene the memory of which will linger long with all present. The Misses Thomas and their assistants, as hostesses, were omnipresent, seeing personally to the comfort of each guest, and the perfect success of the entertainment was the occasion of congratulations to them on every side.

A partial list of those present in addition to the receiving party includes:

Col. and Mrs. C. M. Clay, Paris; Messrs. and Mesdames A. F. Reespe, H. H. Watson, John W. R. Williams, Phyllis Saffell, V. L. Clark, T. B. Rodman, Jas. H. Graham, W. H. Dade, W. E. Bradley, John W. Mr. Gaines a Candidate.

In another column will be found the announcement of Mr. W. T. Gaines as a candidate for Jailer. He is a well-known citizen, will make a strong race and if elected make a faithful officer.

The Gun Exploded.

Henry Lee, colored, who lives on Fowler street, South Side, was out hunting Thursday morning, and in attempting to fire off the gun he was carrying—an old army musket—the barrel exploded, blowing the lock off, which struck him in the face, tore his cheek terribly and put out his right eye. It is feared that he will also lose the sight of his left eye through sympathy. The gun had not been fired for a long time and it is supposed had two loads in it. Lee has been employed for some time as a warehouse hand at the Hermitage Distillery.

Sermon to Young Men.

A special sermon will be preached to young men, at Ascension Church to-morrow evening at 7:30, by Rev. W. A. Snively, S. T. D., late rector of Trinity Church, New Orleans. All the young men of the city are especially invited to attend, and everyone else will be welcome. While the services will be more especially for young men, Dr. Snively's sermon will be a good one for any person, young or old, to hear and a large congregation should be present. The services will be under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

A New Adjutant General.

Gen. A. J. Gross, having resigned his position as Adjutant General of the State on account of being a candidate for State Senator from his district, Gov. Brown on Wednesday appointed Judge J. Cripps Wickliffe, of Louisville, as his successor. Judge Wickliffe came to this city and entered upon the discharge of his duties the same day. Judge Wickliffe is a whole-souled, genial gentleman who will soon become popular with our citizens, to whom he is not unknown, having been a member of the Legislature and Clerk of the Senate before the War, and District Attorney under the last Cleveland administration.

Far and Wide.

Not on this broad continent alone, but in mariner breeding tropical regions, in Guatemala, Mexico, South America, the isthmus of Panama and elsewhere. Hostetter's Stomach Remedy affords to invalids and soldiers protection against malaria. The milder, the freshly arrived immigrant, the tiler of the virgin soil newly robes of its forest by the axe of the pioneer, find in the superb anti-ferreptic a preserver against the poisonous miasma which in vast districts rich in natural resources, is yet fertile in diseases. It combats the disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, fortifies those who use it, and drives out all malarial and febrile influences by its power to purify the blood, and rob of their power to harm morbid and venous miasms and vapors laden with burlesque, strengthens the weak and conquers ineffectual kidney trouble.

BURGLARS ABOUT.

Two Stores Robbed in Two Nights.

On Wednesday night the grocery of Mr. P. A. Fuhs was robbed of a small amount of money and some few small articles. It is supposed the thief sneaked into the store before the closing hour, concealed himself and was locked in. After getting what he wanted he drew the bolts of the front door and went out, leaving it open.

On Thursday night the grocery of Messrs. Howard & McCoy, on St. Clair street, was entered by prizing aside the iron bars across one of the back windows sufficient far to permit a small man to squeeze through. Twelve dollars in change was taken from the cash drawer and a lot of cigarettes, cigars, tobacco, &c., carried off.

The police are at work upon the case and have the party who committed the first robbery, at least, located and it may turn out that he was guilty of both.

Matrimonial.

PICKETT MORGAN—Mr. Montgomery B. Pickett, of Chicago, youngest son of Prof. J. D. Pickett, late Superintendent of Public Instruction, will wed Miss Alma Morgan, of Dover, Mason county, on Wednesday next, November 8th. The young couple will leave shortly after the ceremony for a trip to Europe.

HANMOCK-ZIEGLER—A pretty home wedding was that of Mr. Lon Hammock and Miss Addie Ziegler, which occurred Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's mother in Bellepoint, Rev. J. McClusky Blayney officiating. The parlor of the residence was beautifully decorated, and the bridal party, which consisted, besides the bride and groom, of her brother, Mr. John Ziegler, of Danville, and her sister, Miss Ziegler, as attendants, standing under the arch of flowers, presented a most charming effect. Only a few invited guests were present. The happy young couple left on the C. & O. train for a short bridal trip.

THURMAN-BRAWNER—Mr. Elisha Thurman and Miss Emma Brawner were married Wednesday evening at Antioch Church, this city, by Rev. Polk South.

The marriage of Mr. C. E. Collins of the hardware firm of C. E. & M. A. Collins, this city, and Miss Det Laughlin, of Scott county, is announced to take place at White Sulphur on the 23d inst. Rev. Father McGinley will be the officiating minister. The groom is a very popular young man in this city, and his many friends congratulate him upon having secured as a partner for life so fair a prize. The bride is a young lady who has many friends here who will welcome her as a resident of our city.

There is again much talk of the use of Paris green upon tobacco. Our best physicians say it is liable to kill those who use the tobacco, and many growers say they believe it is wrong to use the poison, yet they cannot compete with those unscrupulous persons who will use it regardless of consequence. Very few growers want to use it and the Legislature should stop it by statutory provisions.

Our young ladies, not specially inclined to matrimony, are on the dodge, for the widowers are loose in the land.

It is announced that there will be a political meeting at Jetts next Saturday afternoon. The Populists will have an orator on hand, and Hon. Lee A. Owen will speak for the Democracy. We have not learned if the Republican party will be represented or not.

Many persons are predicting a very hard winter, and if their predictions be true, there is just ahead much suffering for the poor. Times are hard, money scarce and, save bread stuffs alone, everything is high. Many who are able and willing to work can't get employment, and yet those who might make things just a little easier, continue to delay and obstruct legislation. Let them be of what party they may, the people will call them to account.

Well, friend ROUNDABOUT, how about the Ohio elections. Ohio is usually a Republican State, with a fair count, however, she cast her vote for Grover Cleveland and once more "coming events cast their shadows before." Gov. Neal, if you please.

An Old Man's Letter.

NEW MAYSVILLE,
PUTNAM, CO., INDIANA.

Editor Roundabout:

DEAR SIR—Suffer an old man in the 84th year of his age to give your readers a few ideas of his experience of hard times. I was born—if I had not been I never would have come to Indiana—but I will tell you where and when: On the eleventh day of August, 1810, in Franklin county, Kentucky, rather between Bridgeport and Hardinsville. I don't recollect whether in the morning or night—I was so young and it has been a good long time and I have forgotten, but know I was there. I grew up upon the farm until I was 18 years old, when I went to Lawrenceburg and learned the tailor's trade. In 1829, went to Connersville and carried on the business with Sanford Monday. Married in 1832 and moved into the southwest part of Shelby county, where I continued working at my trade for two years, and then came to this county in December, 1836. I have seen many changes and some pretty hard times. I lost my wife in 1846, and she left me with four small children. In 1849 I married again and three children were the result. I raised the seven children, but only three of them are living. My last wife died in 1869 and I traveled for several years to see the country, but I have now settled for the balance of my life. I have two sons—one is in California practicing medicine, and the other is a Baptist minister, living in Ladoga, ten miles from here. My oldest son has nine hundred acres in a stock ranch and plenty of stock upon it, but there is no money in that country. My health has been poor for two years. I live here with my son-in-law and only daughter and have been confined to my room and bed for over two years.

We hear much said about hard times. When I came to this country spice bush and sassafras were our tea and coffee. We did not complain of hard times, we were satisfied with the country. Corn was 12½ cents per bushel, potatoes the same, wheat 37½ cents per bushel, labor 37½ cents a day, and a day was twelve hours. We knew but little about hard times. Many changes have taken place, but few are living who were here then, and I am the oldest man living who resided here in those days. Many have crossed the dark waters and I am left, but for what purpose I do not know. My greatest interest is to be ready when the Master calls for me.

I have a brother in South Frankfort older than myself, if he is still living. I have not heard from him for some time. He was in poor health when I heard from him last.

I am much pleased with the Roundabout. If my health will permit I will visit Frankfort in the future.

J. B. MAYHALL.

The brother the writer speaks of—Mr. T. J. Mayhall—is still living, but from the infirmities of age has been confined to the house for several years, and is now bedfast.

Why Don't You Stop.

These words are very familiar to our readers, as not a day passes without the report of the sudden death of some prominent citizen. The explanation is "Heart Disease." Therefore beware if you have any of the following symptoms: Short Breath, Pain in Side, Smothering Spells, Swollen Ankles, Asthmatic Breathing, Weak and Hungry Spells, Tenderness in Shoulder and Arm, Fluttering of Heart or Irregular Pulse. These symptoms mean heart disease. The most reliable remedy is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which has saved thousands of lives. Book of testimonials free at J. W. Gayle's, who also sells the New Heart Cure.

When Jack calls on Miss Elнора, He always brings her plenty Of flowers and chocolate bonbons, which Most charm the maid of twenty. And though Sir Jack has skinny arms, And legs as thin as pheasants', How could one blame Miss Elнора, Who whom admires his presents?

No woman has any real admiration for a man's presence unless the man has a good physique—legs and arms well filled out. You can't be "well-looking" if you suffer from any of the diseases caused by a disordered liver or impure blood—dyspepsia, biliousness and scrofulous affections. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine that cures these cases. It's the only remedy that's guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or the money is refunded. Medical science stamp it "absolutely potent" as a blood-cleanser, strength-restorer and flesh-builder.

The worst Nasal Catarrh, no matter of how long standing, is permanently cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.
